Subspecialization and Fellowship Training in Psychosomatic Medicine

The American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology recognizes five approved Subspecialties in Psychiatry, including Psychosomatic Medicine. Fellowship training also exists, with over 50 accredited programs by the ACGME. The Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine is the primary sponsoring organization in the field to both ACGME and APBN. PM fellowship programs offer expert training in important areas including psycho-oncology, primary care integration, and collaborative care models. Fellowship directors meet each year at the Annual Meeting, and current and prospective fellows are active participants within the organization. The Academy will also sponsor the first NRMP Match in Psychosomatic Medicine in 2014. PM fellows are now leaders in clinical practice, training and research both nationally and internationally. More information regarding training can be found at www.apm.org.

The Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine represents psychiatrists dedicated to the advancement of medical science, education, and healthcare for persons with co-morbid psychiatric and general medical conditions, and provides national and international leadership in the furtherance of those goals.

- ◁ A complimentary subscription to Psychosomatics, the journal of Consultation and Liaison Psychiatry. Published by Elsevier Inc., this highly respected journal features peer reviewed articles and original research reports authored by the foremost authorities in the field. In addition to Psychosomatics, members have online access to full articles in General Hospital Psychiatry and the Journal of Psychosomatic Research.
- ◁ A robust Annual Scientific Meeting with internationally known plenary speakers, informative poster and paper presentations, in-depth symposia and workshops and special CME review courses. The scientific research presented is published online. All educational programs sponsored by the APM are approved for Category 1 CME credits unless otherwise indicated. Every year, members and non-members alike look forward to the intimate networking environment and thought-provoking content offered at the APM annual meeting. Best of all, members receive a 25% discount on registration fees. Current information on the next Annual Meeting can be found at www.apm.org.
- ◁ A complimentary subscription to the Academy Newsletter, which updates members on the latest information and alerts from APM.
- ◁ Regular updates and alerts via e-mail, keeping members up-to-date on important deadlines, information on advances in the field of psychosomatic medicine and valuable training opportunities.
- ◁ Opportunities to participate on committees and task forces. APM is fortunate to have a vibrant governmental structure that allows members from across the country to be an integral part of the decision-making process. This results in continual improvements to Academy program and service offerings, and a leadership that exerts its influence in the field of psychosomatic medicine through ongoing dialogue with national and international organizations.
- ◁ A distinguished Fellowship & Awards Program, which recognizes excellence in the field of psychosomatic medicine. For a complete listing of APM awards and requirements, visit www.apm.org.
- ◁ A forum that brings together members with special interests in various aspects of psychosomatic medicine to discuss issues, cases, therapies and training. For a current listing of APM Special Interest Groups, visit www.apm.org.
- ◁ A content-rich Academy website, which offers an online member directory, Job Board, directory of Psychosomatic Medicine Fellowship training programs and referral opportunities at no cost to members. A wide range of educational opportunities, with topics ranging from those of broad psychosomatic medicine interest to special populations (models of care, ethics, transplantation, HIV, cancer, neuropsychiatry, etc.), including material applicable to prepare for the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology sub-specialization in Psychosomatic Medicine, can be found in the Learning Center section of the website.
